Chairman's note

In a growing society, we are extremely critical of everything and forget to celebrate success. I strongly believe that if we celebrate success, you create another success story. With this note I wish all my colleagues of entire LNJ Bhilwara Group - A pleasant and a memorable end to 2019 and a positive beginning to 2020.

2020 will thus be the year when India has to revive its story domestically and globally. India has to ensure that its economic reforms translate into higher growth, investment to pick up, demand gets a boost and there is yet again, a virtuous cycle which makes India an attractive destination.

In the middle of second quarter, the government had announced a set of reforms with a view to boosting credit growth and ramping up investments. Though India's growth outlook has weakened sharply this year, with a crunch that started with the non-banking institutions, spreading to retail businesses, car makers, home sales and heavy industries. Industrial output has dragged down by a sluggish manufacturing sector. While the outlook for capital inflow remains positive, India's exports could face headwinds in the event of sustained global slowdown.

The Commerce and Industry Ministry has prepared a blueprint to further improve India's ranking in the World Bank's ease of doing business index with a focus on six parameters, including enforcing contracts and starting a business.

The ultimate goal would be to develop an export competitive manufacturing base. The Delhi-Mumbai industrial corridor was largely about such a vision. We need to develop an enabling environment for such a base to develop – trade diplomacy, soft reforms in taxation & customs and support for Indian private firms going overseas.

The global slowdown in steel demand coupled with increased steel exports from China is expected to impact demand of electrodes. Steel prices also continue to remain under pressure and combination of these factors have resulted in significant correction of electrode prices.

In the end, I would like to say that we must recognise all good work and applaud every success. Even one good work done in a corner shouldn't remain isolated. Our contribution to the welfare of communities and to build a most trusted company is a priority.

"Motivation is what gets you started. Habit is what keeps you going"

With best wishes.

A smiling you

An empress with no children decided to hold a competition to determine who would succeed her when she died. She summoned all the children in the city to her palace and gave each one a seed. "Plant this seed, care for it, and in one year bring back the flower that grows from it. Whoever brings me the most beautiful flower will be the next empress."

One young girl planted her seed in a pot and watered it every day, but nothing grew. At the end of the year she was devastated, but on the day set for inspection of the flowers she picked up her pot and carried it to the palace.

All the other children brought colorful, vibrant flowers, but the empress only glanced at them. She walked straight to the young girl and smiled. "All the seeds I gave you had been boiled and were dead. Only you were honest enough to bring back the original seed I gave you. You will be a just and wise empress."

Moral: Tell the truth, even when it seems easier not to.

Healthy lifestyle

Ways to Relax and Calm Your Mind to enjoy and notice the beauty of life.

Do you want to feel better about life and yourself? Learn to relax: enjoy moments of peace, compassion, surround yourself with trusted friends, sing and dance under a tree. Life is meant to be lived and loved.

- Discover the value of compassion

Compassion is a kind act of acceptance and understanding. Offer yourself compassion and feel satisfied with who you are at this precise moment. Leave behind any feelings of inferiority, being too self-conscious, trusting others more than you trust yourself, self judgment or blame. Compassion allows you to relax, enjoy a moment of peace and then, accept things you can't change but be resilient at the same time.

- Take a walk

Walking relieves stress, makes you feel calm, content and is one of the best ways to relax your mind.

- Call a friend and entertain each other

Rediscover the value and pleasure of human connection, feel more relaxed, safer, loved and accepted.

- Cook something new

Cooking helps you to alleviate tension and makes you feel more positive. Cooking something new can be the instant recipe for a calm mind and if you can share it with someone you love, double the effect.

- Hug a tree or gardening

We have a deep connection to nature which is one of the most effective remedies to all sorts of problems we might have - from physical pains to emotional ones.

- Dance

When you feel stressed, uninspired, sad, or (even) overwhelmed, Stand Up, put the music on and dance. The motion range of dancing is forcing (gently) all your brain areas to talk to each other, and the result is feeling peaceful and relaxed

- Make a coloured drawing

Colours influence your mood and sense of well-being. Colours bring more a moment of peace and relaxation

- Play with your pet

You will be amazed by how much closer you feel to your pet after you make play a regular part of your life. You will look forward to spending time with your pet. Our mental and physical health also improves at the same rate as your pets. Provoking your pets to a bit naughty and then, humanize their reactions, laughing and giggling together. This will help you to relax and calm your mind.

- Singing

Singing is, like dancing, an activity that improves the biochemistry of your brain releasing endorphins. You feel good, relaxed and more creative after singing.

How to Make Your Home More Energy Efficient

- Change light bulbs to LEDs.
- Wash your clothes in cold water.
- Use microwave instead of stove when cooking.
- Use natural light whenever possible.
- Don't leave computer on all day long.
- Set your refrigerator temperature to the manufacturer's recommendation.
- Don't leave bathroom or kitchen ventilation fans running longer than necessary.
- Adjust the thermostat only to the desired temperature. Your home won't heat or cool faster by cranking it up.
- Turn off the lights when they're not in use.
- Don't leave your mobile phone plugged in overnight.
- Turn off the oven a few minutes before cooking time runs out. Your food will continue to cook without using the extra electricity.

When in Sri Lanka, you can't miss on anything that this island has in store for you. You can visit the oldest ruins or the UNESCO World Heritage sites. Sigiriya, also referred to by some as the eighth wonder of the world, is a place of extreme historical and cultural significance, and it has to be a part of your itinerary. The Land of Ravana is sure to bear traces of the epic era and those that have been discovered are now a part of the innumerable National Museums that have a different tale to tell.

The stunning beaches, the Yala National park, the Pinnewala Elephant Orphanage are just a glimpse of Nature that is waiting to be explored. The blue whales can be sighted almost all day long at this place. The beaches offer enormous scope for water sports.

Wild

The top five biodiversity hotspots in the world. Elephants, sloth bear, leopards, sambar and wild buffaloes engages the majority of the attention of wildlife enthusiast

Thrills

Sri Lanka offers adventures from the top of the mountains to the depths of the oceans. Snorkelling, scuba diving and surfing are the most popular beach sports in the country. Today the oceans are filled with coral gardens, multitude of exotic fishes and ancient wrecks. You will experience one of the best diving experiences in the world.

Bliss

Sri Lanka continues to charm their visitors, capturing their imagination with sights, sounds and flavours. Cuisines are a hidden treat to many while Ayurveda and meditation continues to heal the body & mind.

Essence

Filled with aromatic spices and vibrant colour, Sri Lankan food leaves you feeling happy, warm and content. The cuisine offers a variety of item such as indi appa (string hoppers), appa (hoppers), pittu and roti that pair amazingly well with different curries and sambols.

Tea Board of Sri Lanka is responsible for operating this tea museum. The museum has been established after the conversion of an ancient tea factory in to museum. Special trips for all tea lovers and aspiring tea connoisseurs, who would love to see the process of making tea – from growing tea plants, harvesting them and processing them to preparing tea. This place is a heaven for you.

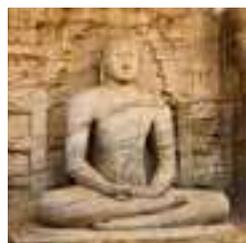

Festive

Sri Lanka is never short of festivals and celebrations. Every month brings a celebration either religious or cultural importance, making Sri Lanka one of the countries with highest number of celebrations and holidays.

Scenic

Despite being a relatively small island, Sri Lanka is endowed with a diverse collection of landscapes, climates and natural features. Beaches have been enticing visitors for many years. Windsurfing, kayaking, yachting, water skiing. Scuba diving etc are other sports activities.

Heritage

The most famed and most exquisite is the Kingdom of Anuradhapura. Sri Lanka's third and the longest serving capital and one of the oldest continuously inhabited cities in the world is also one of the most sacred cities of World Buddhists. Sigiriya, a fifth century AD fortress and a water garden displays some of the most futuristic elements of landscaping and some of the oldest murals recorded in the country. Dambulla Cave Temple or the Golden Temple is a worldwide heritage site.

Temple would spread over five different caves, which contain paintings and statues depicting the life of Lord Buddha. The temple of the sacred tooth relic attracts tourists from around the world – the tooth of the Buddha. The temple is highly guarded and is open for tourists and visitors. The tooth is conserved in an encasing that resembles a stupa, placed inside a series of similar diminishing encasements

Adams Peak

With an altitude of over 2,200 meters, Adam's Peak in Sabaragamuwa holds religious significance to all the important religions followed in Sri Lanka. With a confluence of diverse religions, it is the place that attracts pilgrimage from people in Sri Lanka. It also stands out for its scenic beauty and magnificent views of the countryside of the country, making it a must-visit place for all tourists. It is also known as Sri Pada or the Butterfly Mountain

Sigiriya

One of the most dramatic and iconic locations you will ever stumble upon in Sri Lanka is Sigiriya – which literally translates to lion rock in Sinhalese. Standing tall amidst lush green landscapes with mysterious caves and water bodies, the UNESCO World Heritage Site is the ruins of the kingdom of King Kashyapa, who ruled around AD 477.

Whale Watching Sri Lanka

If spotting dolphins and coral reefs seem to clichéd, try spotting the gigantic blue whales when in Sri Lanka. It is one of the most amazing experiences and is highly recommended for all tourists. It is the only time what you see in movies actually comes true to life

Casinos

One of the best things to do in Colombo is to make money in casinos and losing them in the same. The fun you will have and the moments of tension and desperation that fills the air temporarily is worth to be cherished for a lifetime. Colombo is full of casinos, where you can win or lose cash on a range of games like blackjack, roulette, slot machines and more.

Handcrafted Masks

The perfect place to pick handcrafted masks. Probably, this is also the least expensive places to bag a few masks for your people back home. From elephant to demon masks, the vibrant pieces will make sure your friends and relatives are delighted and believe you actually went to Sri Lanka.

How to reach:

By Air

The simplest and most efficient way to reach Sri Lanka is by flight. You'll most likely land at Bandaranaike International Airport in Colombo.

By Sea

If you're looking to make the journey via the waves, you can book a ticket from Mumbai to Sri Lanka. During the monsoon seasons, the water can be turbulent

Good read

Rich Dad, Poor Dad

by

Robert T. Kiyosaki,

Rich Dad Poor Dad is written in the style of a set of parables, ostensibly based on Kiyosaki's life.

This little book has changed the lives of many people and their perspective on money, who are in misery, not knowing how to make ends meet due to lack of financial education. The contents of this book, tells the story of a young man, who is the author himself, being brought up by his natural father the conventional way of getting a job, saving every penny, working hard and climbing the corporate ladder. At the same time, he also had a "second father" who taught him a different way to view things and how to start from scratch and build his business into an empire.

The main point of this book is to educate yourself on personal finance, which is to learn how to become financially independent by making money work hard for you and not you working hard to earn every single penny. It teaches you that you do not have to be a slave to money and to turn the situation to your advantage. There is no need for you to work for another person if you do not want to, in order to fulfil what you want in life. You are in control of your situation and you no longer need to take orders from anyone. You decide how much work you need. You are your own boss

Learn to think like a rich dad and let your money work for you!
